Anomalies.

The South seceded from the Union in 1861. The validity of the act of secession was denied by the Northern States, and they averred that no State could dissolve her connection with the General Government, and upon this issue battle was joined. Four years of bloody war followed, and finally the conclusion was reached by the surrender of Lee and Johnson, that the South was in the wrong and the North in the right. Yet in the face of this success, to which all nations and kindred and tribes and tongues were invoked to bear witness, it is announced that the Southern States are out of the Union, and consequently that the rebellion was a success. Suppose the South had been victorious, how then would the case have stood?

Again: The Southern States are pronounced by Radical statesmen to be no longer members of the Union. Yet these same statesmen gravely ask their ratification of certain amendments to the Constitution which are admitted to be invalid in the absence of such ratification. In other words, the Southern States are out of the Union except for purposes where it is to the interest of the Jacobins to rank them as States of the Union.

These same sapient statesmen call upon the South to sanction the amendments to the Constitution in order that no father difficulties in the matter of reconstruction may exist, and yet they officially declare that the ratification measures, if adopted, will not ipso facto restore the South to her former relations to the Government.

This is claimed to be a model Republic where the people are represented through their delegations in Congress, and where the right of representation is based upon taxation, and yet the whole legislation of the country is performed by a Congress from which seventy-four members are excluded, and ten millions of people are taxed to support a government in which they are not allowed a single representative.

George Washington and his compatriots are reverenced and eulogized as patriots and benefactors, who participated in the rebellion against "the best government the world ever saw," and Jefferson Davis and his compeers for doing the same thing are held up to public execration as guilty of the worst crime which can debase humanity, and without condemnation, without trial even, is condemned to hopeless imprisonment for life in the walls of a State prison. Such are some of the anomalies and paradoxes which characterize modern Radicalism.—Lynchburg Virginian.

IN A LATE LECTURE in Williamsburg, on the "lessons of our late war," Horace Greely is thus reported in the N. Y. World.

"Mr. Greely thought the very first lesson of the late war was the necessity of war itself as a settling agency. The world had been divided into two classifications—in courts and out of courts, and more evil was done in courts than out of them. Yet, courts were a necessity in spite of their evils,—so were wars. (Applause.) The greatest principle taught by the present logic of events was the peril of undue national expansion. The rebellion might have been prevented had the North and South been contented to develop within their own spheres. (Attention.) The tendency of the times is to concentrate.—Russia has not abnormally spread, but only has rightly united those who should have been one long ago. But let us not look out for what we really are not congenial to. Canada and Mexico are of themselves; let them be so. It is not for the United States to go down into Mexico, or up into Canada. To ourselves, within ourselves, is our duty, destiny and drift. Mr. Greely then spoke of sectional antipathy. The North and South had not thought much good of each other. The North thought the South was a bully; well, they made a big mistake, and have found it out before this. (Applause.) The South thought the Yankee was mean, low, talked through his nose, and had a penchant for making money, a fondness of a kind so heinous as to be only capable of entering the brain of a creature so degraded as a Yankee. (Laughter.) He thought that the bad grammar and billious criticism of English book-writers on American affairs had had a great deal to do in setting our people by the ears. Yet those biblio-manic sins against us were not sufficient to lead us to war either against England or among ourselves.—(Applause.) If there were a law compelling us to read the English books of travel among us, it would be a just cause for war. Mr. Greeley tried to shake off the reproach of being called a sectionalist. He admitted that he hated the usages of the South, and last night he spent much rhetoric to show the possibility of hating the usages and loving the persons and nature of a people. He said to hate slavery in the South was being no more sectional than to dislike the use of tobacco in a friend who lived over the way was to hate the other side of the street, or the one in which you didn't live yourself.

Mr. Greeley then reiterated his tale of 1861, stating that he opposed secession only because he didn't believe that the Southern people had had the chance to speak their own minds—but were precipitated out of the Union. Had the South been unanimous, and ascertainedly so for actual and instant secession, they would have the right to have gone out and stayed out of the Union as long as they please."

[From the Baltimore Gazette.]

Words.

* * * There was a cunning magician once, as we read in the Arabian Nights, who palmed off dead leaves upon a blinded community as sterling coin, and what we once read as a fable we now accept as a parable, or as a prophecy of the things that have come to pass. Here, in a city containing some three hundred thousand inhabitants and some forty thousand men who are entitled to exercise the right of citizenship, a miserable faction, numbering about five thousand individuals, has been installed in power by the bayonet and still rules and oppresses us.—The Southern people are disfranchised, and they are under the domination of a Federal bureau and a Federal army, and they are not represented in a government which regards the right of representation as its corner-stone. Congress assumes to rule, to tax and to punish them as it may seem fit, regardless of the provisions or principles of the Federal laws or of the Constitution. All these facts are not only undeniable, but are plain to the apprehension of a child.—Nevertheless, the columns of all the public journals of the land are resonant with jubilant hosannas in honor of the preservation of civil liberty, constitutional freedom and republican institutions on this continent. Truly, "words are the money of fools."

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDER, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. & 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

MRS. S. D. HARRISON.

Immigration.—Accessibility of North Carolina to Market.

We take it to be the almost universal desire of our people to attract to North Carolina capital, trade, enterprise and immigration. Persons of any or all nationalities who are willing to assist in the development of our diversified resources, who are disposed to cultivate kindly relations and to attend strictly to their own affairs, who are worthy, honest and industrious, and whose feelings are not vindictive or conduct obnoxious, may be assured of a hearty welcome to our midst and of the amplest protection under our laws. This being the case, we are anxious to do all in our power to make the fact known and to display the natural inducements to immigration so lavishly presented by the State. Perhaps it is hardly reasonable to expect, until our national difficulties are composed and until the status of the State is defined and ascertained, that men or families will venture their fortunes in a section where everything is so precarious and unsettled. The current, unhappily, is the other way. Under menaced confiscation, and continued exclusion from the benefits of the Union, while oppressed with onerous taxation, with the prospect of negro equality and other threatened ills staring them in the face, many of our citizens are rather inclined to leave the State and seek settlement where they may have a white man's chance.

But we of the South are responsible for none of these evils, present or impending. It is our part to await results with what serenity we may, and, in the meantime, to omit nothing, consistent with conscience and manhood, that can prove our acquiescence in the issues of the war or that is calculated to build up and repair our shattered fortunes.

North Carolina is more accessible and convenient to the great capital markets of the country than any of those sections in which lands can be bought at anything like as cheap rates as in our State. We will select Weldon as the general point of comparison for the State, for the reason that it is situated at the convergence of four important railroads and therefore easily accessible from all parts of the State. It will be observed by any one, who will take the trouble to consult a modern Railway Guide, that it is equi-distant from New York with Buffalo, in the same State, and with Pittsburg, though we cite these instances only to exhibit our proximity to market, for, of course, it would be idle for the emigrant, who desires a homestead for himself and family, to think of either of those vicinities as a point of settlement. Land could not be bought near either for less than several hundred dollars per acre. Again, Weldon is nearly twice as near to New York as Cincinnati, but half the distance from New York of Chicago, and but little more than one third the distance of either St. Louis or St. Paul's,—which are the grand starting points, whence emigration diverges to spread itself over the plains and through the forests of the great West.

In this connection, there are other facts to be taken into consideration. We have the highest official authority for the assertion, that all the government lands in the West have been disposed of, and are at present mainly held at high prices, for purposes of speculation. Even were this not the case, the proposed settler, upon arriving at either of the starting-points which we have mentioned, is still far removed from the object of his desires. There are still before him the tedious journey in the emigrant's wagon, the night's bivouac, the pioneer's axe, the solitude of the forest, the distance from market and the inaccessibility to the school-house and the temple of worship. Turning South, he may travel almost, if not quite, by rail, to his chosen farm, where he will find either a comfortable dwelling or the immediate facilities for building one, the forest broken, the soil cleared, the market convenient, the school-house near, and the church lifting its spire hard by.

The difference in our favor, in point of time, is equally striking and marked. There are not more than twenty-three hours between Weldon and New York, by land, nor is there much difference by water.

The distance from Weldon to that great centre, via the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and the outside passage, is about 380 miles, which can be accomplished within thirty hours! The distance from Beaufort, also, another point of great importance in the State, to New York is about 500 miles, which is now overcome in 40 hours by sea; and often the same time suffices for the trip from Newbern, via the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal,—the widest Canal in America, having a width of 70 feet,—and Norfolk, to New York.

In every point of view, therefore, the proximity of all parts of North Carolina to the great markets, and the facilities for attaining them, must greatly impress the observer. Weldon, as we have said, lies at the convergence of the two great thoroughfares between the North and South, and at a focus of communication with every section of the State,—the rich corn lands of the Roanoke, the fertile rice-fields of the Cape Fear Counties, the cotton and tobacco growing districts of the midland region, and even the far-up mountain country, so highly recommended for Sheep-husbandry. The rivers of North Carolina are all navigable for about 120 miles in the interior, giving, in the case of three of them, direct water communication with Norfolk, within from eight to twelve hours, through the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal, and putting points along the rivers of Eastern North Carolina within from thirty to forty hours of New York, to the avoidance of the perilous coast of Hatteras. We need not enlarge upon these particulars. A cursory inspection of any modern map, with the various works of improvements and routes of travel well-defined, will satisfy the most skeptical of our incontestible advantages as a highway of trade.

The Cotton Crop.

The cotton crop of North Carolina, in 1860, according to the U. S. census, was 145,000 bales. We have given no opinion as to the number of bales raised in the State the present year. The peculiar season in August cut off, perhaps, one-fifth of the crop, yet, from present appearances, we incline to the opinion that the crop will equal that of 1860. In this we are confirmed by the opinion of an intelligent and large dealer in the article.

If it be true that the present crop will amount to 145,000 bales, which, at present prices, must sell at $17,000,000, we may rely upon a better crop the next year, from which may be realized a sum nearly equal to the above. Then, indeed, the fears indulged in by our people, on account of State and individual indebtedness, may be allayed, if not entirely removed. It is probable that the personal indebtedness of our people is greater in the cotton region than any where else, and the proper and energetic cultivation of that crop would soon relieve them.

But if we take into the account the immense business done in corn-raising, lumber, fishing, and naval stores, in the same region, it is perfectly evident that the alarm among creditors and debtors, indicated by the issue of writs and the making of deeds of trust, is wholly unnecessary.

Equally true is it that a similar uneasiness which exists in other portions of the State is unnecessary. Our tobacco, wheat, grass, beef and pork crops, and our mining and manufacturing operations, must, in a few years, if we are true to ourselves and to the laboring population, afford ample means for the payment of our debts. The tobacco crop alone, which was estimated before the war at 30,000 hogsheads, ought to be doubled the next year. Two-fifths of the State can make tobacco—good tobacco, very superior to that made in the Western States, and of a kind which must take the precedence in the United States and European markets.

We honestly believe that if our people, who are capable of conducting a good system of agriculture, or entering zealously and skilfully into any of the industrial enterprises of the State, will go to work with a will, and determine to consult the comfort, the wants and the proper claims of the laboring classes, white and black, that in two years the indebtedness of the people can either be paid off, or so materially lessened, that we can have no difficulty.

What is needed is a straight-out, honest bearing on the part of debtors, and a reasonable forbearance on the part of creditors, in view of the untoward circumstances which have surrounded us, and in a short period industry and energy will bring us all out right. Let creditors, by their magnanimous course, hush the clamors of the debtor class, and all will be well.

The Baltimore Difficulty.

The imbroglio in Baltimore now presents a remarkable phase. It will be seen, by reference to our telegraphic columns, that the new Commissioners have been arrested under some sort of process, sued out at the instance, we presume, of the Mayor, and, upon their refusal to give bail, were committed to jail. What will be the next movement on the board we cannot undertake to determine.

The object of the Radicals in these high-handed and law-defying proceedings is simply to gain time. By means of them, it is hoped to retain the present police force in office until after to-morrow, which is election day. This done, the election will be gained, which is the great stake in issue. After the election, the old Commissioners will probably yield.

We await further intelligence with interest, and shall be agreeably surprised if the election, to-morrow, is not attended with serious disturbances.

The 44th. District.

Col. A. C. Cowles, the Conservative candidate for the Senate in the District composed of the counties of Yadkin, Surry and Watauga, conducted the canvass with energy and ability.—He canvassed as an out and out anti-Howard amendment man and in support of Gov. Worth and President Johnson, and his success exceeded our expectations. The aggregate vote in the several counties stood thus:

Andrew C. Cowles		2,147.
N. A. Boyden	702
W. Williams	521	1,223
Cowles' majority over both		924

THE MESSAGE of the Governor to the Georgia Legislature opposes the adoption of the constitutional amendment. The Speaker of the House, strongly opposed the adoption in his address on the opening of the session, and his remarks were received with applause.

THE PEOPLE of the South, and all the friends of humanity throughout the country, will rejoice at the mitigation of the rigors of Mr. Davis' confinement, announced in our telegraphic columns to-day. We trust the action of the President in this matter may be but the precursor to his release or parole.

The New York Tribune is laying itself out, in view of the near approach of the State election. After that is over, we suppose Greeley will attempt to repair his damaged reputation. Think of such a falsehood as this, in Tuesday's Tribune, told to help in the election:

"Throughout the late Rebel States the Confederate flags used in the rebellion are carefully laid away for future use. Unless the North presents a bold and solid front in support of Congress, there will inevitably be another civil war, and that at not a distant day."

An exchange says: A lady elegantly dressed in the "habiliments of woe" was met in the streets a few days ago by an acquaintance, who ventured to remark upon her being in mourning. "Y-e-s," said the bereaved one, mournfully, taking a few steps to trail her dress, and looking over shoulder at the effect thereof, "I've just lost my mother—don't you think this is a sweet veil? Such a deep hem!"—Such resignation in affliction is touching.

For the Sentinel.

The Constitutional Amendment—The Admission of all the Territories into the Union will not Secure its Ratification if Twelve Southern States Reject it.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—For the purpose of showing how utterly impossible it will be for the Radical Congress to succed in securing the ratification of the proposed Constitutional amendment, and also for the purpose of encouraging our friends in their opposition to this measure, I desire to make a mathematical demonstration to this end, through the columns of your high-toned paper.

Of the thirty-six States constituting this Union, twenty are designated as Northern States and sixteen as Southern States. Say that the twenty Northern States will ratify this amendment, of which there is much doubt.—To be still more generous, say that Western Virginia, Maryland, Missouri and Tennessee will also ratify it, of which there is still greater doubt, and Nebraska and Colorado will be admitted into the Union over the President's veto, on condition that these two territories will also ratify it. This makes twenty-six votes for the measure, one less than the number desired to make up the required three-fourths of all the States, which number is twenty-seven. From what source is this lucky voter to be obtained? Can it be procured from any one of the remaining States, the names of which are as follows: Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Texas. The answer is no. Then a radical would say admit Washington Territory into the Union for this purpose. Very well, admit her. That would make thirty-nine States, three-fourths of which would be twenty-nine. Now as they have only recieved twenty-seven of this number, it will be seen that they are worse off than they were before they admitted Nebraska and Colorado, and Washington, as they now lack two States instead of one. Now suppose they admit all the remaining territories on the map into the Union, on condition that they will ratify the proposed amendment, except Utah, which of course they would not admit. This addition of five more new States makes forty-four States, three-fourths of which is thirty-three. Add these five votes to the twenty-seven obtained by the admission of Nebraska, Colorado and Washington and it gives them thirty-two votes, one less than the number required.

TOTTEN.

The Next Legislature.

His Excellency, the Governor, will at an early day, probably in his message, present to the Legislature the amendment proposed by Congress to the Constitution of the United States, known as the Howard Amendment, and offered to North Carolina, as one of the States of the Union, we suppose, for her ratification or rejection. We are not advised as to the course Governor Worth will pursue in presenting this amendment to the consideration of the Legislature, but knowing him to be adverse to its adoption, we take it for granted he will recommend its rejection. That the Legislature will reject the proposition is a foregone conclusion, as a large majority of the members are pledged to their constituents to vote against it.

It has been suggested that the amendment should be laid on the table without debate or consideration immediately upon its presentation. We think that the proper course would be for the proposition to meet with the consideration its importance demands and with the dignity due the legislative department of the general government that proposes it for our acceptance. Let it be referred to a joint select committee of the two Houses, comprised of their ablest and most discreet men, and let their committee, in behalf of the body of which they are members, and of the people of the State, whose representatives they are, present to the Congress of the United States, and to the world, the reasons which induce and justify our action. In view of the unpropitious prospects of our political future and of the direful threats so freely and frequently made against us by that party at present controlling the destinies of the country, our action should be careful and deliberate, and fortified not only to bear the scrutiny of the North, but to justify us before the world. When we have done this, we have performed our full duty in the premises. If then we are compelled, by the implacable hand of party tyranny, to pass under the yoke, our heads will be lowered by the exercise of illegal authority and by the weight of irresistible power, and not with shame and degradation.

We think differently from some of our friends in regard to electing a United States Senator, for the term commencing on the 4th of March next, at which time the term, for which the Hon. John Pool was elected, will expire. We think the Legislature should promptly elect a Senator, uninfluenced by the course of Congress, in reference to their rejection, so far, of those already elected. We certainly could not expect representation without claiming it, and a failure to elect would be virtually an abandonment of the claim. Should the Legislature fail to elect a Senator, and at any time within two years different counsels should control Congress and the members from the South be admitted, the appointment would devolve upon the Governor, and the people of the State be deprived of the selection of their Senator by the neglect of those appointed by them for that purpose.—Wil. Journal.

The Last Ninety Days of the War.

Before this number of the Watchman reaches our readers it is expected this work will be ready for delivery. We feel perfectly confident of its success as soon as the people begin to know its value. It is no trashy, sensational, made-up book, but a well-thought and carefully prepared history, combining the value of a careful and faithful narrative with the glow and life of romance. There is matter in this volume not to be found elsewhere.

Six hundred copies have been ordered by one bookseller, who knows the worth of the book and the wants of the market.

Let our orders come forward, and they shall be filled promptly.—N. Y. Watchman.

In what Southern city could such proceedings be possible, as are recorded in the following from the New York Herald?

"We understand that Manager Wheatley is making from two to three thousand dollars a night by his curious and immoral exhibition of fifty semi-nude women at the theatre on Broadway formerly owned by Mr. Niblo. At this rate Wheatley may retire in a few months with a fortune of half a million."

A trombone player who resides in the Department of La Meuse, France, being assured that parrots, thrushes and ravens can by dint of perseverance be taught to speak, conceived the idea of giving a course of instruction to one of the ducks in his poultry yard. As the story runs, he placed the duck in a retired spot and repeated to it at least two hundred times a day a certain air, and the result was that the creature now sings that air with ease and grace, instead of quacking, after the usual absurd fashion of its kind.

Five thousand trees have been sent to beautify the grave of Abraham Lincoln.

Gov. Swann's Decision.

Governor Swann's decision, removing the Police Commissioners, is a lengthy document, carefully reviewing the law and the facts.

It concludes as follows:

"Impressed, as I am, with the utter demoralization of the police organization as it now stands, I shall do what I can to restore it to its proper relations with the State and the law upon which it is founded. I have no desire to appeal to the General Government for aid to enable me to execute the laws and to protect our citizens against the threatened riot and bloodshed, unless impelled to take this step by the further resistance of the Police Commissioners and their followers to the laws of the State.

If that contingency should arise, the responsibility will be upon those who provoke it. I stand upon the Constitution and laws of my State, and there I will continue to stand until the trust imposed upon me by the people of the State of Maryland shall be delivered back into their hands, in spite of all the threats of personal violence and the blustering efforts at intimidation which have already disgusted discreet and thinking men throughout the country. I can only say for myself that the remnant of a life now half spent would be purchased at too dear a cost, in the high position which I occupy as Governor of the State of Maryland, by the dishonor of my State and the degradation of her people.

THOMAS SWANN,
Governor of Maryland.

THE CHURCHES OF THE SOUTH.—A correspondent of the Atlanta Era, commenting on Mr. Beecher's comparison of the churches and schoolhouses of that section to "lighthouses twinkling along the edge of a continent of darkness," says—"In 1850 there were 21,387 churches in the Northern States, and 16,665 in the Southern States. The proportion, 1 church to 628 persons in the North, and 1 church to 562 persons in the South. The accommodations of these churches were 8,656,661 sittings for 13,434,922 persons North, and 5,541,875 sittings for 9,664,665 persons South. Thus 54 persons out of 100 could attend services at the same time in the North and 57 out of 100 in the South, including whites and slaves alike.

Thus the Northern States had only 7 per cent. greater accommodations than the South. Surely, this was not a sufficient difference to justify a charge of heathenism upon the Southern people."

The votes which have been thus far taken in the several Annual Conferences of the Southern Methodists indicate the ratification, by a large majority, of the proposed change of the name of the Church to Episcopal Methodist Church, and the proposed introduction of lay representation into the General Conferences.

The following result are reported:

Holsten Conference—For change of name, 51; against it, 2. For Lay Representation, 57; against it, 7.

Louisville Conference—For change of name, 35; against it, 31. For Lay Delegation, 57; against it, 11.

Arkansas Conference—For change of name, 25; against it, 7. For Lay Representation, 27; against it, 4.

Nearly 8,000 buildings have been erected in Chicago, Ill., during the present season, at a cost of about $7,000,000.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

Near Warrenton, N. C.

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fine wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

TERMS—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered.

TIN WARE: J. Brown, with Hart & Lewis.

Quent Busbee, Esq. announces himself as a candidate for the Assistant Clerkship of the Senate of the ensuing Legislature.

Dr. L. S. Perry offers for sale his valuable residence near the Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

THE LATE LIEUT. EDWARD S. SMEDES.—The remains of this brave young officer, who was killed at Spottsylvania C. H., on the 12th. day of May, 1864, while acting as Adjutant of the 5th. N. C. Troops, [Col. Garrett,] were received in this City on Friday afternoon last.

On yesterday afternoon the funeral obsequies took place, and there was a very large and general turn-out of our citizens, of both sexes, to do honor to the memory of the noble and lamented youth. The time for eulogy has perhaps passed. More than two years since he laid down his life for the cause to which he was ardently devoted, but it may not be amiss to say, even now, after such a lapse of time, that there were few young men in the Army of Northern Virginia of finer qualities of head and heart than Edward S. Smedes. Of singular candor and gentleness of nature, of unwavering and conscientious allegiance to duty, of winning and attractive manners and of approved gallantry, he was decidedly an universal favorite with his regiment.

The funeral cortege, as it moved from St. Mary's school, (the residence of his father,) presented a strikingly impressive appearance.—The hearse containing the remains was preceded by a quite a large body of ex-Confederate soldiers, some of them his former immediate comrades, and following it were perhaps a hundred or more young ladies of the school and the city, each bearing a chaplet with which to crown the young soldier's sepulture. Arrived at the Episcopal church, which was filled to its utmost capacity, the solemn burial service was read by the Rev. Dr. Mason, when the procession, increased by the accession of hundreds of citizens, moved in the same order to the City Cemetery, where the final rites were performed. After closing the grave, it was literally covered with flowers by fair hands, as was that of a younger and equally gallant brother, Ives Smedes, slain at Chancellorsville, by whose side he rests. The whole scene was beautiful and touching.

On the afternoon of the 14th of May, 1864, the writer of this assisted in committing all that was mortal of Edward Smedes to a rude soldier's grave on the field where he fell. His then sole requiem was the roar of musketry along the still contending lines. Yesterday, how different! The peaceful Sabbath,—the ritual of the Church he loved,—the solemn swell of the organ—the grateful offices of friends and the mourning presence of family,—the floral coronation and the dear soil of home!

GOOD CHANGE.—The First National Bank of Raleigh has purchased that excellent and eligible property, known as the new Bank, on the corner of Fayetteville and Hargett Streets, of Jno. G. Williams, Esq., and will have it fitted up at an early day in order to its occupancy by the Bank. This is the most desirable position in the city for the growing business of the Bank.

A NEW STORE.—Messrs. Pulliam, Jones & Co. wholesale grocers of this city, have purchased the south portion of the new Bank lot, and will put up at once a large brick store, running from Fayetteville to Salisbury Streets. Their increasing business demands more room, and they intend to carry it on more largely and to the entire satisfaction of their numerous customers.

MILITARY COMMISSION.—Orders were issued at Washington, on the 1st., to proceed, without further delay, if possible, with the trial of certain parties mentioned in the Steedman-Fullerton report. The Commission was adjourned about two months since for the lack of witness.

ON DIT.—That a negro regiment is to be brought to this City, in the course of a few days for the purpose of being mustered out.—We sincerely hope that the rumor is without foundation.

ARRIVALS AT THE EXCHANGE HOTEL, Nov. 3rd and 4th, 1866.—T M Kelly, Bladen Co.; Fred. D Wright, Augusta Me.; G M Lea, T W Whitsell, Co.'s Shops; W B Melvin, Del. City; Mrs. M Emmons, E Emmons, Albany, N. Y.; D Hinton, Phila.; Miss. Donnell, Mrs. Chapman, Newbern; Daniel R Goodloe, Will. Eaton, jr., Warrenton; Frederick Hall, England; E H Semple, N. Y.; Louis Zimmer, Balt. & Ohio R. R.; Judge R B Gilliam, Oxford; R M Powell, Texas; Col. D. D. Ferebee, Camden Co.; C J Watkins, Forsythe Co.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.—A new schedule went into operation, on yesterday, on the various Railroads. Hereafter the Northern train will arrive at 6 P. M., and the Western leave a few minutes thereafter. The Western train will arrive at about 7½ o'clock, P. M., and the Eastern leave a few minutes thereafter.

THE EYE AND EAR.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of Dr. Gardner, Oculist and Aurist, (formerly of London,) now of New York, who will be at the EXCHANGE HOTEL, on Saturday, Nov. 24th., and remain until Thursday, the 29th. After that time, he will visit Raleigh monthly, of which due notice will be given.—The Dr. comes highly recommended by the press of the different cities he has visited. Those who require medical or surgical aid for defective sight or hearing should avail themselves of the opportunity now offered for obtaining relief, by consulting Dr. Gardner.

WHOLESALE BUSINESS.—We have privately urged upon some of our leading merchants the propriety and utility of opening, in this city, large wholesale establishments. We believe this is an eligible position for an extensive business, and we are glad to know that several merchants have tried it and others intend to try it. Messrs. Pulliam, Jones & Co., Messrs. W. H. & R. S. Tucker, & Co. Messrs. B. P. Williamson & Co., and Hart and Lewis, we know, have tested it satisfactorily. As soon as Tucker Hall is completed, the Messrs. Tucker & Co. will fill that immense store with Dry Goods on wholesale and retail. We think we ought to have Dry Goods, Grocery, Hardware, Crockery, Shoes and Hat Wholesale Stores, entire, and we hope to see all these in operation before six months.

LUNATIC ASYLUM.—The Governor and Board of Supervisors of this Institution held their annual meeting to day at the Asylum.

State News

—— The Wilmington Journal says that the present police force of that city, under the supervision of Gen. Robert Ransom, the Chief Marshal, has approached a degree of efficiency hitherto unknown in the annals of the place.

—— A Special Term of Guilford Superior Court, for the trial of civil cases, has been ordered to be held on the 2nd. Monday of January, 1867.

—— The Greensboro Patriot says that the Railroad Convention at Mt. Vernon Springs, Chatham County, on Thursday last, was well attended. The counties of Rowan, Guilford, Chatham and Cumberland were represented. D. F. Caldwell, Esq. was presiding officer.—The meeting was very harmonious and full confidence was expressed in the success of the enterprise. This meeting, it will be remembered, was held for the purpose of promoting the construction of a Railroad from some point on the N. C. Railroad to the Coal-fields of Chatham.

—— The Norfolk Day Book is ecstatic over an excellent article of Scuppernong wine from some one of the vineyards of this State. It pronounces it superb, and says:

"All that is necessary in order to secure a ready sale, is to have it put up in tall, slim bottles of the Paganini shape, the cork handsomely tin foiled, and then labelled with a rich and golden illustrated label, with a carefully selected name from the Rhine land, which can be readily selected, and this Old North State product, far superior to most if not all of the foreign acids we get, will "go off like hot cakes."

THE UNIVERSITY.—In compliance with a resolution passed at the meeting of the Trustees of the University, in June last, the committee appointed to investigate the affairs of that institution has just closed their investigations, after several days session, at Chapel Hill. The committee will make their report at the annual meeting in December, in this city. The committee was composed of Hon. W. A. Graham, Chairman, Judge Battle, Wm. Eaton, jr., Col. D. D. Ferebee and Hon. S. F. Phillips.

CURRITUCK AND CAMDEN.—Senate, Wilson D. Ferebee.

Eggleston, the Radical elected to Congress in Ohio, over the talented and accomplished Pendleton, was a few years ago the driver of the bear-wagon to a menagerie, and has since become wealthy from a bone-boiling institution. He goes to a place where his bear governing abilities will come in play.

The cost of living in New York at the present time is almost incredible, and it is astonishing where all the money comes from to support such extravagance. Furnished houses in fashionable avenues rent for $1,000 per month. A family living at one of the large hotels pays $700 per week for rooms and board. The average price for large rooms and board in the principal hotels cannot be less than $150 per week for man and wife.

Forney is furious that President Johnson has pardoned that eminently good and just man and great financier, George A. Trenholm, of South Carolina, and abuses both the pardoned and the pardoner in his rancidest billingsgate. The dirty fellow forgets that this pardon was granted on the special recommendation of those idols of the Radicals, Generals Howard and Tilson.

Prentice is not so sick but that he can say that "the carrion crows, the ultra Radicals and the wolves are alike longing for another war. The crows caw for it, the fanatics shriek for it, and the wolves howl for it. Let us see that the hungry trio are disappointed."

Cardinal Antonelli has stated to the U. S. Minister at Rome that he advised Maximilian against going to Mexico. Both he and the Pope expressed the hope that the U. S. Government would spare the life of President Davis, and "offer no victims on the altar of a restored Union."

The Canadian papers reply to the clamor for mercy which comes from the States on behalf of the Fenians, that it would be well if the Federal Government had thought of this virtue when they were hanging and imprisoning their citizens, (not forigners,) and that any official intervention of this government comes with bad grace from a people who hold an illustrious prisoner in jail for nearly two years without even a trial!

Gov. Curtin, of Pennsylvania, has set himself in opposition to the prescription which appropriates Friday to hanging purposes. He lately assigned Monday as the day for an execution, and in a more recent death-warrant has named Tuesday for the hanging. Whether this will relieve Friday of its present odium, or merely involve other days in it, is the question.

If the Southern States were to adopt negro suffrage next week, they would not be admitted into Congress. In that event, the radicals, as soon as they should recover from their astonishment, would invent some new pretence to cover their settled purpose. Their invention is exhaustless, as their purpose is relentless. But we have pursued the subject far enough.—Louisville Journal.

The notorious spiritualist medium, Cora Hatch Davies, is a candidate for the Illinois State Legislature from the city of Chicago.

Refreshing.—To find a radical paper asserting that the presence of one more black-guard in Congress, in the person of Morrissey, would corrupt that delectable body.

When is the best time to read the book of nature? When autumn turns the leaves.

The Masons of Memphis, Tenn., are preparing to build a grand Masonic Temple there.

Our Monday Morning Dispatches.

From Baltimore—The New Commissioners and the Sheriff Arrested and Committed to Jail—Great Excitement and Riotous Demonstrations.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 3, P. M.

The new Commissioners were arrested this afternoon on a bench warrant, issued by Judge Bond, on the charge of attempting to break the peace, and upon refusing to give bail in the sum of $25,000, were committed to Jail. Sheriff Thompson was also committed. The old commissioners are still in possession. The counsel of Messrs. Vallient and [illegible], the new Commissioners, will get out a writ of habeas corpus, which will bring the question before the Courts, which can scarcely be returned before Monday. The city is quiet now. Several riotous demonstrations occurred during the afternoon, when the fact became known that the new Commissioners had been arrested.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.

Gov. Swann, Montgomery Blair, and Mr. Latrobe, Counsel for the new Commissioners, arrived here last evening and had an interview with the President to-day. Gen. Grant and Secretary Stanton were also in the Conference.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4.

The Counsel for the new Commissioners have made application before Judge Bartol for a writ of habeas corpus. The writ cannot be served until to-morrow. The law of Maryland, on the subject of habeas corpus, provides that the officer having the party suing out the writ in custody shall, within three days after service, make return of the writ and cause the person detained to be brought before the Court. If the Warden of the Jail avails himself of these three days, it is supposed that the parties may not get a hearing before Tuesday or Wednesday. It is not known what course he will pursue.

It is presumed that if the Commissioners are brought before Judge Bartol to-morrow, their Counsel will enter into discussion on the points involved.

The city continues remarkably quiet, and except small gatherings of people quietly discussing the situation, and the numberless rumors, there is nothing noticeable out of the ordinary course of events.

From Fortress Monroe,—Mr. Davis.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 3, P. M.

The parole granted Jefferson Davis some months ago, giving him the privilege of the grounds of the Fortress during the day, has been extended through Executive clemency in removing all surveillance over him, and the guard from his rooms in Carroll Hall at night. Instructions to this effect have been sent from Washington to Gen. Burton, commanding the Fort, divesting his imprisonment of anything like severity, and paving the way, it is generally presumed, for final parole and release. All the guards over him, both during day and night, being removed, he now enjoys perfectly untrammeled liberty, and every possible means of comfort and pleasure while held a prisoner in the Fortress. It is said he has expressed great gratification at this action of the Government, and already contemplates vacating Carroll Hall and taking up his residence with Mrs. Davis in the casemates assigned her shortly after her arrival here.

Our Afternoon Dispatches.

The Baltimore Trouble, Again.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5, M.

Judge Bartol appeared in Court this morning, and, in answer to his inquiry if the writs of habeas corpus had been served, was informed they had been served this morning, but the prisoners were not forthcoming, owing to some difficulty presented by the warden of the jail.

The counsel for the prisoners contended that the writs should be returned immediately, unless unavoidable impediments are in the way.

The prisoners not appearing at 11 o'clock, their counsel announced that they had prepared a petition that his Honor would command the Deputy Sheriff to produce the Warden together with the prisoners. The Counsel for the old Commissioners thought such a return would be made by 1 o'clock, as would render further proceedings here unnecessary.

Special Notices.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhoea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The Louisville Journal says: "The testimonials which Dr. Gardner presents to the public could never have been obtained, except by the display of great skill and learning in his profession. One thing especially commendable in the Doctor's practice is, that he will not attempt an incurable disease for the sake of a fee, but frankly tells the patient whether he can be cured or not. We cheerfully recommend Dr. Gardner to the attention of all our friends who may be suffering from diseases of the eye or ear.

The Richmond Times says: We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gardner is the most scientific and successful eye and ear Surgeon in this country.

"We feel justified in recommending Doctor Gardner to those suffering from diseases of the eye and ear."—Richmond Whig.

"We can safely and cordially recommend Dr. Gardner, who will fulfill all he undertakes to perform."—Baltimore Clipper.

The New Orleans True Delta says: "We can safely recommend Dr. Gardner as a successful operator on the eye and ear. He will not undertake to treat a case unless a cure can be effected.

The Wheeling Register says: "Dr. Gardner is one of the most successful Oculists and Aurists in the country. We advise those suffering from the diseases of the eye and ear to consult him."

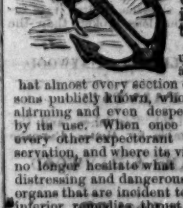
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF



Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other expectorant is too patent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

We can only assure the public, that its quality is carefully kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all that it has ever done.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of our remedies, but space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our American Almanac in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the complaints they cure.

Those who require an alterative medicine to purify the blood will find AYER'S COMP. EXT. SARSAPARILLA the remedy to use. Try it once, and you will know its value.

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine!

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
Notary Public,
L. S. Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL.—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON. D. C.

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative notes, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise,

W. H. CROW,

General Agent,

For the State of North Carolina, Petersburg, Va., and surrounding Counties.

IN addition to the loss and prompt payment of Justus Kinseys policy for $5,000, is now added another loss, by the death of J. E. Weeks, of Elizabeth City, N. C. for $5,000, and again promptly settled by the Ætna.

By this practical illustration of the advantages of Life Insurance, it is commended to the confidence and support of every one desirous of providing for surviving loved ones.

As an investment merely, a Life Insurance Policy is as safe an investment of funds as can be made.—The principal, generally, is not only many times in excess of the amount paid, but in a sound company it has no rival for security, and no species of Government bonds are a more desirable investment.

VALUABLE PLANTATION FOR SALE!

ON THE SECOND THURSDAY IN DECEMBER, that being the 13th day of the month, I will sell to the highest bidder, upon the premises, that desirable lately owned, and resided upon, by Miss Elizabeth Hinton, dec'd.

The tract is situated on Neuse River, six miles East of Raleigh, on the Tarboro' Road, adjoining the lands of David Hinton. It contains from of land,—from THREE TO FOUR HUNDRED of which are cleared. About 100 acres are fine low grounds, not liable to over-flow. This is considered one of the best Cotton Plantations in the County, and the bottom land will always produce enough Corn to sustain it.

THE IMPROVEMENTS

consist of a handsome Dwelling House, containing seven rooms, located on a commanding site. There are three frame houses also on the premises, with two rooms each, and all necessary out-houses, cabins, barns, gin house, carriage house, &c.

As this land will be sold on the liberal credit of only one-third cash, the balance payable in one, two and three years, a rare opportunity is afforded to parties wishing to purchase a first-class farm.

Personal security will be required, and title will be with-held until the last payment is made.

1866. FALL TRADE 1866.

M'ILWAINE & CO.,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS,

No. 79 Sycamore Street,

Petersburg, Virginia,

TAKE PLEASURE IN INFORMING THEIR friends and the trade generally that the steady increase of their business has rendered it necessary for them to add two rooms to their Dry Goods Department, together with a large and convenient entrance from Tabb street, which arrangement gives them a most spacious Sales-room, well lighted, and enables them by this increased accommodation to add largely to their Fall Supply.

They beg leave to invite particular attention to their extensive assortment of

made to order under the supervision of Mr. A. S. SHAFER, whose long experience in this department of business, in this city, has made him familiar with the wants of Merchants in Virginia and North Carolina. Anticipating a heavy Trade this Fall, their stock will be found unusually large, embracing a general assortment of

American and Foreign

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

together with a full line of

which having been purchased for cash, they have no hesitation in saying to the Trade, that they are prepared to offer such inducements as will insure satisfaction.

Capt. EDWARD GRAHAM and Mr. JOHN McNEECE have charge of this Department, and will be pleased to exhibit our stock to buyers visiting this market.
